

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the T. m."

In the secret session of the South Carolina Radical Convention, held at Columbus, U. S. Marshal Ewing offered a series of moderate resolutions, which were adopted, with the exception of five votes. Subsequently violent speeches were made by several delegates, which frightened them from their position. A reconsideration was thereupon ordered and the resolutions were defeated. Marshal Ewing then abandoned the Convention. Wright, who opposed the resolutions most vehemently, is a black man, who, at a former convention, introduced a resolution insisting that the next Vice President should be a colored man.

About 9 o'clock last night, as a militia colored regiment was parading the streets in Baltimore from some cause or provocation yet unknown, they fired twelve or fifteen shots in the street. Charles A. Ellermeier, (white,) aged eighteen, was instantly killed. A number of whites soon arrived, and for a short time great excitement prevailed. A large police force was soon on the ground, and no further disturbances occurred. "The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the firing on the part of these colored people, was totally without cause or provocation."

Santa Anna, says the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, writes from his prison house in Mexico to a relative on Staten Island, that he has no apprehensions for his life at the hands of his clerical men. He says he expects they will officially decree his banishment from Mexican soil, but he is pretty well assured they will neither hurt a hair of his head nor deprive him of a dollar's worth of his property.

On Sunday noon, just as the congregation were about leaving Dr. Burchard's Church, on West Thirteenth street, New York, the pavement at the door caved in, leaving a chasm so deep that a brick being thrown into it, no sound was heard when it struck the bottom. The aperture proved to be a large well, which had been imperfectly covered over when the street was made, and its existence forgotten.

An order was received at Buffalo, N. Y., yesterday, from Gen. Grant remitting the sentence of the court-martial in the case of U. S. soldiers of Battery M, 4th artillery, who were arrested and sentenced have already been reported, for participating in a Fenian procession on the 17th of July last. Gen. Grant states in the order that the remitting of the sentence is done by order of the President.

Judge McCandless, of the U. S. District Court of Pennsylvania, has decided that, in bankruptcy cases, the Federal Courts have not the power to restrain by injunction any action of State Courts in such cases. The Judge intimates that the power should be bestowed at the next session of Congress.

Kentucky, the fastest horse in America, ran a race against time, yesterday, on the Jerome Park Course. The horse was backed by Mr. Jerome, for ten thousand dollars, to make four miles in seven minutes twenty seconds. The bet was lost, the time of the race being seven minutes thirty-one seconds.

It has been stated that the impeachment question would be dropped in consequence of the result of the recent elections; but members of the Judiciary Committee declare that a majority of the committee favor it, and are confident that that project will receive the approbation of a majority of the members of the House.

On Mr. Alexander's stock farm at Woodburn, Ky., there are one hundred and twenty broad mares of thorough blood running over its acres, one hundred cows, and eight hundred sheep of the finest varieties, just the half of the number before some epidemic swept over the flocks.

A dispatch from New Orleans says:—"Gen. Hartuff is lying dangerously ill of cholera morbus. The weather is daily growing cooler. Gen. Hancock is expected on November 1st. Fever intermits for twenty four hours ending at six o'clock yesterday, were thirty-one."

The North Missouri Railroad Company, yesterday, sold nearly four millions dollars of its bonds to J. B. Eades and associates. Several heavy capitalists of New York and St. Louis are connected with Mr. Eades. Means are now secured to finish the road.

The election which took place in California on Tuesday, was a close contest. It is probable that the Democratic candidate for the Supreme Judge is elected. The other officer voted for as Superintendent of Public Instruction, is in doubt.

A strict quarantine has been established below Cairo. Thousands of people are said to be flying from Memphis in consequence of the fever. Large numbers of them have arrived at and passed through Cairo.

Several mercantile firms in Philadelphia have suspended payment. One of them reports liabilities to the amount of $200,000.

The statement that Generals Pope and Ord had been sent for to come to Washington, is said to be without foundation.

The report that the Montana militia had turned robbers is denied.

A NULL AND VOID PLEDGE.—A good joke came off quite recently at the court-house. A person living a short distance out of the village is in the habit of frequently coming into town and drinking to inebriation. At such seasons he is accustomed to call on his honor, Judge M.—Recently he made one of his visits, became decidedly tipsy, called upon Judge M., and desired the judge to write him a pledge, asserting his intention to cease drinking. His honor wrote the pledge as desired, and the tipsy individual affixed his name thereto. He then desired to have the pledge that he might take it home and exhibit it to his wife. His honor thought he was himself the proper custodian of the important agreement, but yielded to the solicitations of the man, at the same time assuring him that if he broke the contract, and appeared before him again in a state of intoxication, he would have him looked up. A week elapsed and the judge was confronted by the same man, as tipsy as aforesaid.

"How is this?" said his honor, "did I not tell you I would have you looked up if you did not keep your agreement?" "Judge M.," said the tipsy fellow, "do you think I am a fool? I know what I am about. I'll show you if I am a fool!" and he drew forth his wallet from his pocket, took out his pledge, unfolded it, and holding it up, triumphantly exclaimed, "Will you just show me the United States Internal Revenue stamp on that agreement?" The Judge cried.—Ex.

GOLD.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Gold to-day, 144.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The Conservatives in Richmond are working with great energy, and everything indicates that there will be an exciting election, and that the full white vote will be polled for delegates and against the convention. The ticket headed by Marmaduke Johnson will be voted for by the Conservatives. The "moderate Republicans" are frightened, and it is now thought they will join with the Radicals under Hunnicutt.

There was a large attendance at the concert given in Dr. Barrows's (First Baptist) Church, in Richmond, upon the occasion of the inauguration of the great organ. It was built in Boston, has eighteen hundred pipes, and is considered by musicians the best instrument in the country.

The Norfolk Journal of the 17th concludes an article on the Taylor farm difficulty as follows: "There was no difficulty; it being simply a meeting at which the subject was discussed in all its points. If any difficulty exists at this time it is unknown to the Freedmen's Bureau."

The Horticultural and Pomological Exhibition, in Richmond, closed yesterday, with a distribution of prizes. It is considered a great success. Gov. Wise's speech will be published in pamphlet form. It is looked upon as his greatest effort.

J. C. Southall, the accomplished editor of the Charlottesville Chronicle, was nominated last Saturday, as the Conservative candidate for the Convention in the district composed of the counties of Albemarle and Augusta.

A meeting of Conservatives last night at Petersburg nominated David May and J. R. Williamson in opposition to the Radical ticket. The assembly was large and enthusiastic.

Col. J. C. Gilson has been nominated as the Conservative candidate for the Convention from Rappahannock county.

William M. Kellinger has been appointed Depot Agent at Charlottesville for the Orange and Alexandria Railroad.

The Congressional committee to investigate the affairs of Southern railroads have arrived in Richmond.

The finest deer hunting in the country is now to be had around Covington.

Row in the Radical Camp in Richmond.

At a meeting at Hunnicutt's hall, on Monday night, Wardwell, who considered himself badly treated by his friend Hunnicutt, made a speech, in which he handled the nominees roughly. He wanted to know what interest Hunnicutt had in Richmond? What was he to represent in the Convention? If he had any property here, or any where else, God only knew where it was. He wanted to know what interest Underwood had in Richmond to entitle him to the nomination? If he had any property it was in Alexandria, and if the people there would send him to the convention, what right had Hunnicutt or any one else to saddle him on the backs of the people of Richmond? He wanted no Underwoods. There were plenty of Richmond men to represent Richmond without importing men from abroad. He wanted to know who Morrissey was, and what interest he had here? He believed he had a barrel of whiskey in a shop somewhere in the city; and that was the extent of his interest.

Voice—"You just talk so 'cause niggers don't stop buying ice and coal from you."

"No, I don't," said Wardwell, and went on. As to your colored candidates, I believe one of them has some property, and that property consists of a second-hand fiddle and belongs to Lewis Lindsey.

He gave the whole party a terrible castigation, and washed his hands of further intercourse with them.

We would again call attention to the familiar old proverb.

We have the authority of Barnham Wardwell for stating that three months ago Hunnicutt denounced Underwood in the severest manner, making the worst kind of allegations against him. He also stated that Hunnicutt warned him (Wardwell) not to touch him. Underwood must have had some inkling of the state of Hunnicutt's feelings towards him, as we learned two or three weeks since that he was disposed to get away from the Hunnicutt party in this city. We would again call attention to the familiar old proverb.—Rich. Examiner.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Mr. R. B. Mohan, who purchased Franck Taylor's bookstore, has taken into partnership with him at that store Mr. Orson H. Bestor, under the firm name of Mohan & Bestor. There will be great regret at losing Mr. Taylor from the book trade, he having been in business at that place over thirty-three years.

Intelligence has been received in this city of the death, from yellow fever, of R. J. Jenkins, esq., a young man well known in this city. His death occurred on the 28th of September, at Vermilion parish, La.

It is stated that on the 1st day of November a change of proprietors will take place on the Evening Star of this city, Mr. W. D. Wallach having sold his interest to Messrs. C. B. Baker, Crosby S. Noyes, Alex. H. Shepherd, and George Adams, (correspondent of the World.) The troops, consisting of the 12th and 44th United States infantry and company K, 6th United States cavalry, (General Grant's body guard,) were reviewed yesterday morning at the White Lot, south of the Treasury building, by the President and General Grant.

[COMMUNICATED.]

A few words to the Colored People.

The following suggestions to those of the colored people, who are not the tools and slaves of the "Loyal Leagues," and Radical leaders, are from the Staunton Spectator, and their publication in the Gazette may cause some of them, at least to think:

"An election is at hand, and in the Providence of God, you are called on to take part in it. You will find plenty of designing people, who for their own wicked purposes, will seek to mislead you. They want offices and power for themselves, and they wish to use you, as the monkey used the cat's paw, to draw the hot chestnuts out of the fire. Such men will try to array you against the white people, and get you to vote, in solid column, for these pretended friends. Will you advance your interests in this way? Who now gives you employment? Who furnishes your houses, and fuel and food and clothing? Is it the men who seek to mislead you, or those against whom they seek to array you?"

There are thousands of white people in the North, and tens of thousands of Irish and Germans, who want the employment and the profits of the business you now have. Do you wish them to get it? Do you wish to give it up to their favor? If so, vote to the men of property that you are in battle array against them, and their interests, and the country will soon swarm with white laborers, and you will see your error when it is too late.

Do you think the Northern people set you free out of any love they bore for you? By no means. They did it through necessity, not to help you, but to hurt the people of the South. Who brought your forefathers from Africa and made them slaves? It was the people of the North. They sent their ships to Africa, and either stole or traded for negroes, and brought them here and sold them to the people of the South?

Are they your friends now? Do they want to give you the right to vote, and be on an equality with the whites, in the Northern States? Let the late vote in Ohio, where the people decided against colored suffrage by fifty thousand majority, answer the question.

Have you ever thought of the reason why Northern people were so anxious to get rid of slavery? Was it from affection to you? Quite the reverse. There are thousands of poor white people in the North, who want to come here. They want the places you now hold, and the profits of the employment you now have. In a word they want to root you out, to make room for themselves. As long as you had intelligent and powerful friends to protect you, they could not do this. They saw it, and they made a flank movement on you, and sought to do indirectly, what they could not do directly. The first step was to sever the connection between you and your old friends, and thereby withdraw their protection from you. They are trying now to array you against those with whom you were born and raised. As soon as they get you fairly "cut loose" they will kick you out at pleasure, and there will be no one to defend you. You will fall between two stools. You will lose your old friends, and gain no new ones.

Let any colored man or woman, go to any Northern State, and try to get employment, in any factory, or as driver of a street car, or as hackman, &c., and see how soon he will be pelted with stones, or beaten with clubs!

This fondness for the colored people is all pretence! Before five years you will see another excitement in the North. This time it will be not for, but against the colored people. It will be to run them out of the country.

This was Lincoln's idea, as expressed by him to a colored delegation which call on him.

Northern interest stimulated abolition, to make you defenceless, and now that you are defenceless, the Northern people will drive you out, to make room for themselves. They drove your fathers out of the Northern States, and they will drive you out of the Southern States into Mexico. Mark what we say and remember it!"

REMARKS.—The market closes with considerable activity. Flour has remained unchanged for the past few days, the stocks on hand being limited, and prices steady. Choice brands of Family are in brisk demand. Wheat in fair request, and prices steady. The receipts continue light, the offerings on 'Change to-day amounting to only about 900 bushels, with sales of white and red at 55¢ for poor red, and 20¢ 25¢ for fair and good white and red. Corn closes less active, at a decline of 1¢ 1/2, with sales of 900 bushels mixed and yellow at 18¢ 14¢. Some samples of new Corn were exhibited on 'Change this morning. Rye in fair request, with sales at 45¢. Sales of 300 bushels Oats at 65¢ and 68¢. Wool is very dull, and the tendency downward. Butter is scarce, especially good, which has further advanced. Eggs have advanced, and are scarce. Green Apples are coming in pretty freely, and are selling at $2 50 at 75¢ per lb. Plaster is quiet, with fair stocks on hand. Fertilizers less active.

BALTIMORE CATTLE MARKET, October 17.—Beef Cattle.—Prices to-day ranged as follows: Old Cows and Steers at $3 50; ordinary Steers, Oxen and Cows, $4 50; common to good stock Cattle $13 00 to $15; fair quality Boones $17 50 to $20; and the very best Boones $25 00 to $30. The bulk of the offerings were very inferior, with only a few first-class Boves on the market; the former declining in price 1¢ per lb. Sales of fair to good Beef have been made at 45¢ per lb. gross. Common to good stock Sheep brought $1 50 to $2 00 per head. Lambs selling at $2 50 per head.

Hogs.—The receipts have been good during the week, amounting to 8,000 head. The demand has only been moderate, and the price fell off about 1¢ per lb. Sales of fair to good Hogs at $9 00 to $10 00 per lb. net—the latter rate for prime Hogs only.

BALTIMORE FLOUR AND GRAIN MARKET, October 17.—The market for Flour remains about the same for some days past. Desirable Howard Street grades are in light supply, and holders are quite firm. City Mills receipts are abundant, but the high prices obtaining for Wheats render the market steady. There is some demand for shipment both for the Rio market and for the British Provinces, and we understand that sales to the extent of 1,500 bbls high grade City Mills Extra have been made at $12 75 and 13¢. We also hear of sales of 400 bbls choice Northwestern Flour at $11 50 to $12 00. There have been sales also of several hundred bbls City Mills Super at $10 40 to $10 50. Corn Meal is very firm. We note sales of 100 bbls. City Mills at $6 75.

Supplies of all kinds of Grain continue very moderate. Wheat has been in active demand both for Northern shipment and home milling, and prices have further improved 10¢ per bushel, particularly for prime and choice Maryland and Virginia red; medium and low grades closed a little easier. Corn closed several cents lower compared with previous week. Oats have ruled steady. Rye irregular.

The Dry Goods market in New York has been dull this week.

RELIEF HOOK AND LADDER CO.—A called meeting of the Relief Hook and Ladder Company will be held at their Truck House, this (FRIDAY) evening at 7 o'clock. By order of the Board, GEO. R. SHINN, Secretary.

COMBS AND BRUSHES.—Hair, Tooth, Nail, Clothing, and Children's Hair Combs, all in great variety, for sale at C. C. BERRY'S, 72, King st.
